CAMP SITES IN THE SOUTH.

They Are to Be the Best Possible,

Regardless of Expense.

ASHINGTON, September 30.-General Schwan has been for some time past inoting sites for camps in the South, and now at the War Department, preparing report. He discussed the matter of stice briefly with General Corbin to-day, and was informed by that officer that the of the President and the Secretary sites selected for camps, without re-to whether they were offered by the serial to whether they were offered by the series of the community or whether they were paid for by the government. The War Department has the authority to select and condemn ground for camps, and if it is found that desirable locations can be secured in this way, they will be selected without regard to expense. The department is determined to have the new camps the very best that can be found in the South.

THE WEEK'S TRADE.

BUSINESS PAILURES PEWER THAN IN MANY YEARS.

CHANGES ALL FOR THE BETTER. An Exception is the Fall of Cott

a Century-Pig-Iron Firm Every-

NEW YORK, September 30 .- Messrs. R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly review of trade to-morrow, will say:

Failures in September have been about $6,700,000, and for the quarter about $22,-875,000. No report covering the exact month or quarter is possible this week for a journal which must go to press on Friday, the 30th, but the returns indicate a smaller aggregate of failures than n any other month in many years, exept in August of this year, and smaller for the quarter than in any other quarter since 1892. In fact, except in one quarter of that year, no other appears to have shown a smaller aggregate, unless more than ten years ago, when the volume of solvent business was very much smaller than it is now. Evidently the complete returns to be given next week will show that the state of business is in that respect more satisfactory than it has ever been, unless in one quarter of 1892.

THE FALL IN COTTON Changes are all for the better, except in the fall of cotton to the lowest point for fifty years, and even the lowest prices of 1848, considering differences of qualities, were perhaps not lower than the prices this week. If there were not the prices this week, if there were not an hand commercial and mill stocks upon hand commercial and mill stocks un-usually large, or if manufacturing were more successful, an early recovery might seem probable, but the heavy fall in the price of material has affected the demand for goods, causing buyers to expect still lower prices for them, al-though after the decline last week, goods now average lower than ever before.

While the stagnation in wool continues, with sales even smaller than in the same month of the panic year, 1836, numerous mills have started temporarily,

THE GRAINS. Wheat rose 21-2 cents on Thursday, but then declined sharply, closing 2 cents lower for the week, notwithstanding very eavy exports, amounting for the week to against 20,661,315 last year, flour included. The usual babble of gushers does not change the belief that the crop will be the largest ever grown, and while farmers throughout the West are holding back grain, largely because of the low prices, the western receipts are now running above even the extraordinary movements a year ago, both for the week and for the month. Corn is a fraction lower, with some decrease in export demand, even though the recent shipments would have been considered heavy in any year before the last, and can hardly be con-tinued long.

Failures for the week have been 195 in the United States against 194 last and seventeen in Canada, against thirtyfour last year.

THE STATE FIREMEN.

Their Tournament at Newport News Lexington's Triumph.

NEWPORT NEWS, September 30 (Special.)-The last day's programme of twelfth annual convention of the Virginia State Volunteer Firemen's Association consisted solely of reel contests. While the teams which entered made remarkable runs, it must be said that the programme of contests was not wint the people expected, as the first three numbers on the list were stricken out, owing to the absence of commetitors. sence of competitors.

The Lexington Fire Department team carried off the henors of the day, winning all three of the real contests.

The first contest on the programme was a prize drill, the prize being $25.

There were no entries.

A hook-and-ladder contest for a prize of $50 was next, but there were no teams third number was an interstate reel contest for a prize of $50. Neither were there any entries in this race. The reel contest for association teams

The reel contest for association teams only was started at noon. The first prize was $70, and the second $25. The track was 225 yards, and the race was run on West avenue between Twenty-fifth and Thirtieth streets. Each team competing was required to start on a given signal, pull the hose-cart to the plug, and make connection, and then break the hose at 225 yards and attach the nozzle. Suffolk was the first to run, and cleared the was the first to run, and cleared the course in 1:13. Roanoke followed, and when the team attached the nozzle in 5 seconds its friends cheered the feat to the echo. Lexington ran last, and when the team filed out of the Hotel Warwick in athletic costume and sprinting shoes the Roanoke firemen raised objection laiming that this team should be required to run as firemen and in firemen's uniform, and not as college athletes. As there were no restrictions made be-fore the races, the Judge decided to allow the entry, and the Lexington team trot ted up West avenue to the starting point.
The pistoj was fired and the young sprinters dashed down the avenue to the goal.
On reaching Twenty-sixth street, the foreunner opened the plug and quickly mad connection, and the reel was swiftly car ried to the finishing point, where the noz zie was attached, the whole requiring bu forty-seven seconds.

While the judges would not give out th time, it was apparent to all who has watches and followed the races that Lex ington came out ahead, and the Lexing ton firemen gave their team men an ova

The next event was a reel contest, one to the world, for a prize of $25 and a si ver trumpet. The Roanoke and Suffol teams refused to run, and Lexington wer in on the condition that it would receiv the prizes if it should beat its own tin of the previous contest.

This the Lexington boys did, makin the course in forty-six seconds.

Then followed the principal event of the day, the world's reel contest for a priz of $250. Roanoke and Suffolk refused t enter, and Lexington won the large priz n a run of forty-seven seconds. The Board of Judges decided late th evening that Lexington reel team wa not entitled to the first prize of $250 the world's contest, and refused to awar the money. The judges decided that the Lexington team used four men at the plug, and the rules of the Virginia Voluteer Firemen's Association plainly state that in all reel contests only two me shall be used to make connection wit the plug. Captain V. E. Funkhauser, of the Lexington team, this evening filed protest with the Citizens' Executive Committee, claiming that it violated no rule and is entitled to the prize money. Cal tain Funkhauser will also protest again the judges' action to the association

NEW YORK, September 20.—The market for dry-goods is comparatively without feature. Both cottons and woollens were quiet in all grades. The latter were the subject of some perfunctory trading, chiefly in worsted lines. But a small number of reorders for light-weight goods were recorded. Cotton continued dull in nearly all grades.

Trading was spasmodic, with aggregate transactions the largest, perhaps, in several weeks. Prices declined 3/24 points, systematically, at the opening, futures at Liverpool having shown weakness. Immediately following the call our market became unsteady, under estimates for a heavy movement of cotton at the ports, as well as the more important interior towns. Liquidation set in on a moderate scale, and the more confident bears materially increased their obligations on the short side, belleving that the downward turn toward 5c cotton was at hand. A few scattered selling orders were secured from the South and abroad, which added to the general weakness.
